

Version 5 is just out, and season mode has been upgraded to career mode.

You will of course be able to play multiple seasons in a row, and build your way to the top of the rankings. You will also have to deal with your player's stamina, and let him rest enough between tournaments to stand a chance against your opponents.

We have also improved gameplay and AI in this version. There is also a clearer display of character's stats in the menus.

Here are some screenshots of the new features (click for bigger versions), as well as the usual demo download link.
