

Following the promises of the beta version, we have been working on making online play more straightforward and user friendly.

In this regard, we now provide a dedicated matchmaking server. It will allow you to easily find opponents to play against.

Cherry on the cake, we have decided to allow demo players to experience network play too. In order to try it, just download the latest demo through the link below and refer to network instructions on our forum.

Access to the demo download page

